

Hi! my name is Joe. I am five years old.

I live with my Mum, Dad and older brother George in a big blue house near the sea. But I didn't always live with the Mum, Dad and big brother that I do now.

A lot of children grow up and live with the same mums and dads their whole lives and they are called a family.

But other children, like me, live with a different mum or dad than the ones they had when they were born and they are called a family too.
